

group hug

“A carriage of convenience”

During our last group hug we spoke about our passion for charters. But that’s not to say that we don’t care about smaller groups. In fact, such is our love of smaller groups that we would like to propose carriage.

It’s the perfect match

Ahhh...it really is just meant to be – Eurostar exclusive carriages are well suited for groups who require a degree of privacy, want to make productive use of their journey time or simply want the party to kick off the moment their journey begins. You can hire carriages of varying sizes in either Standard or Group Select class and customise them by selecting from a wide range of branding, catering and entertainment options. Whether you just want a nice quiet affair or to make a huge impact if it’s all about the PR, it really is the perfect solution.

Talking of PR exercises, allow us to offer some practical proposals to profit from your privacy...

“By using a Eurostar™ exclusive carriage en route to a product launch in Paris, we were able to put on a superb event for our client from the moment we pulled out of Waterloo.

With stylists on-board to pamper our clients during the journey, the ability to adorn the interior with decorations to our specification and featuring the new product logo – the carriage really did feel it was our own”
